Re: Special Service & Support Division, Licensing Section Memo 2-2020
Recent LSPP Education Board Approved Training Courses/Certifications

Per R.S. 40:1664.11 the Life Safety and Property Protection (LSPP) Education Board is authorized to establish all initial and qualifier certification/education/training requirements for individuals seeking licensure to perform life safety and property protection contracting in the state.

On February 18, 2020, the LSPP Education Board approved initial certifications as shown below:

- FED Learning Center (A BHC Company) Kitchen Suppression Systems (Course) was approved as a LSPP initial certification option for the Kitchen Suppression Specialist endorsement.
- FED Learning Center (A BHC Company) Portable Fire Extinguishers (Course) was approved as a LSPP initial certification option for the Portable Fire Extinguisher/Fire Technician endorsement.
- FED Learning Center (A BHC Company) Fire Alarm Systems (Course) was approved as a LSPP initial certification option for the Fire Alarm with an examination caveat that it must be proctored.
- Locksmith Trainers, LLC d/b/a Foley-Belsaw Locksmithing Professional Locksmithing (Course) was approved as an LSPP initial certification option for the Locksmith Technician endorsement.
- Elite CEU Residential Fire (Course) was approved as a LSPP initial certification option for the Non-Required and Household Fire Specialists endorsements.

In addition, the LSPP Education Board voted to accept, for continuing education purposes, continuing education trainings that have been adopted by National Association of Elevator Contractors (NAEC) for its Certified Elevator Technician (CET) certification program. It also passed an additional motion that adopted, for continuing education hours, any future continuing education trainings provided by NAED for the purposes of its CET program.
